SLAYERS' LAST HOPE RESTS UPON EXPERTS' ADVICE TO GOVERNOR

Four alienists, appointed by the State of Massachusetts, examined John J. Develeaux in the death house at State Prison today, while in cells on either side John J. McLaughlin and Edward J. Heinlein pressed their ears against the steel partitions in the futile attempt to hear the questioning that means life or death to them.

FOUR SEVERELY HURT; 100 SHAKEN UP AS CARS LEAP RAILS ON B. & M.

Auburn, Me., Aug. 4.—Four persons were injured severely and 10 others were bruised and shaken today when the Bar Harbor express on the Maine Central Railroad was wrecked on the Turner street bridge, eight cars leaving the rails and two sliding down a sixty-foot embankment.

The most severely injured, Mrs. Pearl Mitchell of Harrington, Me., Herbert W. Foote of Canton, Me., railway mail clerk.

Elmer Marston of Portland, Me., baggage master, W. L. Jeffers of Bangor, Me., mail clerk.

The accident occurred within a few hundred feet of the long bridge arching the falls of the Androscoggin River between this city and Lewiston and by this short distance a serious tragedy was averted.

A broken brake rigging caused the wreck, officials of the railroad reported.

The train separated directly behind the locomotive tender and a mail car and baggage car hurtled down the bank where they hung suspended.

SAVE MILLIONS U. S. AGAINST IN BANK FIRE NEW NAVY CUT

Collosum of employees prevented $12,700,000 in securities and cash going up in smoke when a general alarm fire swept through the three-story brick building at 204, 206 and 208 Broadway, Somerville, on Tuesday night.

The fire was believed to have originated from spontaneous combustion. It was estimated that the loss would be $2,000,000.

Mrs. Owen Hawkins of No. 32 Broadway, discovered the flames bursting through the roof of the building.

With the flames drawing near to their quarters the bank employees carefully picked up all valuables, books and papers, and stored them in the fireproof vaults.

Residents of a three-story house on Franklin street immediately adjoining the burning building in the rear, were ordered out because of the danger of falling walls.

Sparks from the fire flared to the roof of the three-story wooden building at No. 13 Broadway, driving out its occupants. Flames welled down the roof and quickly extinguished the blaze.

During the height of the excitement, a barometer by about ten years old, starting across the street fell in the path of a moving trolley car and was saved from further harm by Patrolman Snow grasping him by the ankles pulling him to safety.

Paul Smith, N. Y. Ass. & (first) vernal—That the United States will decline to enter any naval reduction scheme or other disarmament project that might jeopardize the possible outcome of the Geneva conference was announced positively here today in behalf of President Coolidge.

The announcement was intended to put the question upon the reports that the Coolidge administration is engaged in a three-year naval reduction program with England and Japan.

President Coolidge's attitude on the Geneva conference, as previously announced by Universal Service, was fully verified by the announcement.

The President hopes the conference will ultimately relieve the people of Europe of the burden of military establishments but he is none too optimistic of the outcome. European nations, notably France, have loaded down the agenda with so many far-reaching articles of disarmament, that they seemed designed to lead the conference into a never-ending futile row.

Smokeless City Near, Says Tech Expert

Williamstown, Aug. 3 (A.P.)—International peace, improved living conditions, and betterment of the labor situation all lie in the hands of the chemist, as the servant of super-science, the Institute of Politics was told today.

R. T. Haines, professor of chemical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, pictured a future in which smokeless cities, without blumes, would flourish under conditions of health and prosperity unknown today.

Assuring that possession of an atom bomb is not the end of the world, Professor Haines said that chemistry, by perfecting means for transforming coal into oil, cheaply would prove a great safeguard to world peace.

Such conversion of solid fuel into liquid, he continued, would result in centralization of power and resulting decentralization of industry. In this development, he saw a new world.

The ultimate goal, he said, "is the procuring of coal into the smokeless form, solid, liquid or gaseous, with all power centrally generated and distributed electrically."

And the ultimate goal means a clean atmosphere in our cities, a unity of living in less congested districts, ready access of the city dweller to the country for recreation, urban advantages on the farm, and a general increase in the happiness of every one.

Because the photograph had little value, other than sentimental, Judge Michael J. Murray, in the warrant issued by the Municipal Court, today refused to grant a habeas corpus writ against Sherry Marston, who, it was charged, appropriated a picture of his grandfather, Russell Marston, founder of the restaurant chain.

The complaint was made by personal counsel with Marston & Co. Sherry Marston, it was alleged, removed a picture of his grandfather from a family street restaurant, Marston in court today said the picture was given to him by his father, Howard Marston. Judge Murray said it was entirely a civil matter, since the picture was not the work of a master or artist.

Paul Smith, N. Y. Ass. & (first) vernal—Breaking his adriatic vacation for a visit in Plymouth, Vt. President Coolidge left today for the White House.

The Chief Executive plans to be away from the White House for several days. His purpose in returning to his boyhood home was to visit the plot in the little hillside cemetery, talk with old friends, and attend to personal business associated with the family home.

Passengers on the Presidential special train, in addition to Mrs. Coolidge, include Major James F. Coughlin, the President's personal physician, and the newspaper correspondents. Arrangements were made for Alvin Karpis, also a staff of Vermont, to board the train at Burlington for the run to Lafford, the railroad station near Plymouth.

Frank W. Bowers of Boston, personal friend of Mr. Coolidge and his house guest at the President's vacation home, will remain in White Pine Camp, the White House secret service men will remain in the Adirondacks, acting as a special guard to the President while he is in the Adirondacks. He will be joined tomorrow by Mrs. Bowers. The work at the Adirondacks during the President's absence is in charge of his personal secretary, Edward T. Clark.

CUMB WOODS TO GET WILD MAN

East Bridgewater, Aug. 4.—Armed men were scouring the woods for about this town today in search of a wild man armed with a heavy bludgeon who has terrorized the district for more than a week.

Although no overt acts have been reported, women and children in fear of attack are afraid to venture into the woods.

The search was taken up in earnest by Chief of Police Everett Thayer and other officers reported sighting the man in various sections here. Always he is described as wearing a heavy beard, devoid of clothing and carrying a huge club.

Picnic parties have been hastily broken up at the sight of the fearsome creature. Auto drivers have alighted him many times at the edge of the roads, but always he disappeared quickly into the woods.

"The walkers," employees of the Edison Electric Company patrolling the high tension system, have reported sighting the nude figure on many occasions between here and Whitman.

The police were inclined to discount the stories first heard about the supposed wild man, but when the situation became so tense and women and children refused to go near the woods, they were started.

It is believed here that the man may be an escaped inmate of the State Farm from Bridgewater, who has taken refuge in some secluded cave deep in the heart of the heavily wooded region near here.

Lubitsch Signs With Famous Players

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS.
Movie Picture Editor of Universal Service.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—There is a festive period in motion picture circles that is more like April than August—a sort of Spring fever, as it were. Here we have Ernst Lubitsch, Warner's well-known director, signing a long-term contract with Jesse L. Lasky.

I can hear a murmur of questioning voices following this announcement, asking why it is possible for Lubitsch to move to the Paramount studios when he has two more pictures to make for Warner Brothers.

The arrangement, I understand, is an amicable one. Warners has no immediate story for Lubitsch, and "The Jazz Singer," which he will direct with George Jessel, does not go into production until May of next year. Famous Players-Lasky on the other hand, have several plays which they would like to have Lubitsch direct. He will, therefore, make his next picture under Lubitsch's contract, returning again later to Warners to fulfill his contract, returning again to Famous Players-Lasky who directed Emil Jennings with such success about a year ago.

Lubitsch, who directed Emil Jennings in his first American-made film, while not as well known as his director in "Passion," has the first attracted the attention of the American public.

JANET GAYNOR, petite, brown-eyed, and with an attractive personality, looks to me to be one of the most promising of the young actresses whom I have met about the studios.

I was interested to learn that she had been given the leading feminine role in "I say," which the Paramount company makes one of its important Summer productions.

Warner McGrath has been named as a prominent member of the cast. Knowing something of her success as a "heavy," I suspect he is being called upon again to play a villain.

MARCELINE DAY seems to have played in extraordinary luck ever since the first decided to become a film actress. She has women in pictures. I realized that again when I read that a test picture had been taken of her for John Barrymore's picture, "Francis Villon."

Mr. Barrymore has been very kind to her and if he does there is small doubt that Joseph Schenck, head of the Barrymore company, will have little difficulty in borrowing her from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, with whom she has a contract.

Quick Quizzes on the Movies

By BARBARA BENTON

H. P. D. MEDFORD—Many thanks for "thin kind words." What a joyous "licker" you must be! I should say that your listing of the producers is very close to perfect, but aren't you going to give me a look in? Until recently, you know, they used to release all the Harold Lloyd pictures and are responsible for some few of his best work in this office. However, the exact position of each producer is, mainly, a matter of opinion after all—like so many other things. Isn't that true? If you want the latest "inside information" on the movies, see the "Film Daily," 3610 Broadway, New York.

G. W. SAYLESVILLE, R. I.—"The fastest horse in the movies?" That's a tricky question. You can arrange to get all your equine eliminations in the same race, it would be hard to say, but I think that the honors would be somewhere between "Rex," "Tony" and "Silver King." Then again, Ken Maynard, whom you are going to see far more frequently next season, has a genuine companion that certainly ought to land a place "in the money." And "the best actor?" Well, Harold Lloyd is so much to be most affected by the income tax, but the distinction, after all, may not be things about Adolph Menjou, John Barrymore, Charlie Chaplin, not to speak of Mabel and Mabel-Lynn. So there you are!

H. G. ANSQUAM—Seems even her are as 38. And Daniel? Five feet four in height, weighing 130 pounds, and has black hair and eyes.

TOREY—SOMERVILLE—William Eugene appeared with Barbara La Marr in "The Girl from Montmartre." Joseph Schildkraut is due to appear. Someone in the Fall you will see John Gilbert here in "The House of the Dead." He is the Magnificent.

AIMS DECREE AT NON-FACISTS

Rome, Aug. 4 (A.P.)—The Fascist Cabinet has given its sanction to a decree calling for the gradual doing away with all non-Fascist public manifestations of a charitable, intellectual or sporting character. All manifestations and ceremonies "of a non-Fascist nature" are to be permitted. All ceremonies are to be co-ordinated to prevent loss of energy and money and to obtain the greatest success.

Because of disturbing elements in them and in order to put the direction more closely in touch with the leaders of the Fascist party, various sporting associations, including the Italian Football Federation, the Automobile Club of Italy and the National Pugilistic Federation, have been reorganized.

UNDERTHINGS .. protect them from two enemies that rob them of their daintiness

So easy to keep them fresh and lovely!

THIS year underthings are like fairy cobwebs! Too lovely to resist—yet you dread the thought that washing may destroy their daintiness. And well you may—for in the ordinary washing you risk them to the two unseen enemies of sheer weaves.

The first enemy is free alkali—the free alkali in ordinary soaps—cakes, flakes or chips—destroys the sensitive silken fibres—fades their colors. Harsh, destructive—it actually cuts the life of a delicate fabric in half!

The second enemy is rubbing—rubbing cake soap on these delicate fibres literally rubs the bloom away, weakens the tiny fibres so that they wear out months before their time.

No delicate fabric can withstand the ravages of these two enemies! But the most difficult colors and weaves are just as safe in Lux as in pure water—no destructive rubbing, no harsh free alkali. Let Lux guard your precious things during the danger season when perspiration is so destructive, when your underthings must be washed repeatedly. With Lux it is so easy to keep them as dainty as when new. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Your slips, gowns, chemises over time and trials, lace-edged. Your gay new pajama flannel, all these precious lovely underthings, as costly to Lux—the safest, smart way!

BOMB BAITER IS FOUND STABBED

Stabbed during a row in the Plaza Club, according to the police, William Hayes, twenty-eight, a waiter at the club, was found today in Puella street, Roxbury, unconscious and bleeding profusely from wounds in the head and left elbow.

He was taken to City Hospital, where his name is on the danger list. Recovering consciousness, he refused to name his assailant or give details of alleged fracas.

Arrest of two or three men on suspicion within a short time was predicted by Sergeant Mute of Juvenile street police division, who led a squad of officers in search of his victim of the Roxbury night club, for months known popularly as the "Black and White."

Police reported finding Hayes' hat and blood-stained coat inside the club and they believe he was carried or run from the club after the stabbing occurred. A rigid investigation was ordered into events at the all-night rendezvous.

SAUGUS TAX RATE $4.15
INCREASE OF $3.15

The tax rate for the town of Saugus this year is $4.15, an increase of $3.15 over the rate for 1925. Announcement of the new rate was made by the Board of Assessors. This rate is attributed to increase of expenditures.

In the town spent $501,351, while the amount to be raised to carry on the town's affairs was $501,491, an increase of $5,140. Valuation of the town has been set at $12,477,129, an increase of $133,227 from 1925. This increase is because of a slight increase in valuations and also new buildings.

A Thrilling Story of Night Life and Night Clubs; A Mad Whirl of Adventure

A Paper That Goes Into the Home, Dependable Fearless, Entertaining and Instructive.

BOSTON AMERICAN
BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1926

SECOND SECTION

Joslyn brought a leaping light to Briehalter's eyes. A weaker man might have attempted to kiss her, but he checked the impulse.

Joslyn Poe, daughter of a proud, but impoverished Virginia family, wants a career, not marriage. Her mother wants her to wed. The wild blood of a line of daring women runs in her veins. She wants adventure. A seeress tells her of the "wildness" in her blood. She goes to a dance. She determines she will settle her problem that night—to marry George Ramsom, well-to-do, but no dandy, or—to go to New York in seek of adventure. She meets a stranger at the dance.

Milton Stein, the stranger, advises Joslyn to go to the city and to dance. Joslyn, hungry and discouraged, is heard weeping by Kittie Lane, a manicurist. Kittie gets Lee Rogers, a friend, to invite them to dinner.

While the girls are at the table with Rogers, James Kelvin, movie star, attempts to cultivate Joslyn's acquaintance. There is a near row with Rogers. Kelvin goes away leaving with Joslyn a sense of some strange influence over her. A few days afterward Kittie is brought home blind from bad booze. Joslyn rushes to Stein's Academy to take a job as a "Taxi Dancer" to care for Kittie. In the academy she meets Stephen Bates, a man-about-town, who offers to go to Kittie's help. Kittie's life and sight are saved by the doctors secured by Bates. They both go to a party at Bates'. Kelvin is there. He kills Bates in a quarrel.

Kittie saves Joslyn by telling the police that the death row was over her.

With Kelvin hiding in her apartment Joslyn is called by the district attorney. She beats him. Police watch her flat. Great luck comes to Joslyn. She is offered $250 per week as a dancer. Briehalter asks her not to accept and offers her $500.

Kansas Primary Vote Shows Effects of the Drive Against Ku Klux

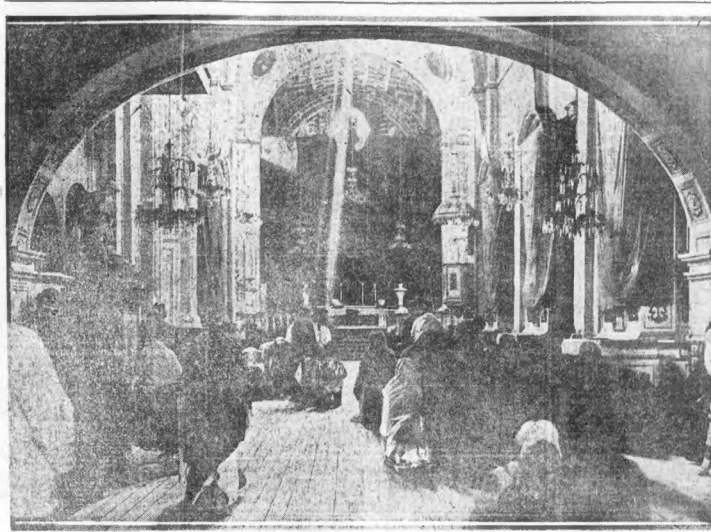

Topoka, Kan., Aug. 4. (A.P.)—Candidates opposed to placing the Ku Klux Klan on a legal basis in Kansas maintained slight leads in returns from primary balloting in 400 of the State's 2,641 precincts.

Three judges of the Supreme Court, opposed by the Klan because of their ruling ending the order from Kansas, were steadily increasing their lead.

Former Governor Jonathan M. Davis was leading Donald Main, an attorney, by a few votes in the Democratic gubernatorial race.

Seven of the eight representatives to the national Congress, two Democrats and five Republicans, apparently were renominated, six Republicans are contesting for the seat of Congressman Thatcher in the seventh district.

Senator Charles Gier leader and Governor Ben S. Paulsen, Republican, had little opposition.

Williams and Hawes Defeat Missouri "Drys"

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 4. (A.P.)—Senator George H. Williams, Republican incumbent, and Congressman Harry R. Hawes, Democrat, both of St. Louis, apparently received their party nominations for United States senator for both the long and short terms in the primary election in Missouri.

Williams has taken a stand against prohibition, despite his party's pledge to work for enforcement. He is an avowed wet.

Returns from 1,533 precincts out of 4,095 for the Republican nomination gave Williams 77,282; Blockett, long term race, 1,516 precincts of the State gave Williams 81,826; Blockett, 25,195; David M. Proctor, Kansas City, and avowed "dry," 41,826.

Returns from 1,766 precincts gave Hawes 75,282; Meredith 47,620; Young 14,535. Meredith and Young are dries.

Klan Nominer for Governor Leads the Oklahoma Poll

Oklahoma, City, Aug. 4. (A.P.)—With approximately half of the primary votes counted, Henry B. Johnston, identified by his opponents as a Ku Klux Klan candidate, today had a substantial lead in the Oklahoma Democratic gubernatorial race.

Elmer Thomas, Congressman, was leading former Governor J. C. Walton and three others for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

Attorney J. W. Harrell led a field of six for the Republican nomination. Interest centered in the gubernatorial races, in which twenty-two candidates filed on the five tickets, when the Supreme Court declared Governor M. E. Trapp ineligible. Trapp became Governor in 1923 when Walton was deposed. An Oklahoma law provides a Governor cannot hold office two consecutive terms.

Seven of Oklahoma's eight Congressmen maintain substantial leads for renomination.

NAB 3 IN DUAL PULPIT MURDER

Morgantown, Ky., Aug. 4. (A.P.)—An alleged bootlegging gang is being rounded up for questioning in connection with the double murder of the Rev. W. A. Moss, an evangelist and Mrs. Jerome Robinson, a choir singer, during a revival service.

As the strains of "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There" floated through the little school house at Early, twelve miles north-west, with the time being carried by more than 100 fathers, mothers and children of the neighborhood, three shots rang out in quick succession and the innocent revivalist and his choir leader, standing next to him, fell dead, killed by the same bullet.

Three youths, alleged to be moonshiners who feared and hated the revivalist because he had denounced them, were jailed in Morgantown after being run down by police.

'GOODBYE DADDY' HE PHONES

Children Going to Movies Find Bodies in Vacant Lot at New York

New York, Aug. 4. (A.P.)—A mother's "spite" murder of her three-year-old son, followed by her own suicide, has climaxed a year of marital litigation between the mother and her husband.

The tragedy was discovered yesterday by three small children. On their way to the movies through a vacant lot in 125th street, the children discovered the body of Mrs. Joseph Millman with a bullet hole in her head and the body with a similar hole in his head. His little body lay crumpled over a sand pile and shovel.

The husband and father, in a state of collapse, identified the bodies later.

Just before noon, police learned, Mrs. Millman had telephoned her husband from a drug store in the Bronx. "The only way I can settle now is to kill the child," she told him. Then she lifted Martin to the instrument.

"Fello, Daddy," said Martin. "Mother interrupted. 'Say goodbye.' 'Goodbye, Daddy,' said the child. The receiver clicked. Millman rattled the receiver back anxiously, but the wire was cut off. It was his son's last message.

Millman told police he married in 1922, but his wife had left him in 1925, and started an action for separation, making custody of Martin and $12 a week alimony. Eight months later, Millman sued for divorce, alleging misconduct, but the jury decided in his wife's favor.

More litigation followed, but the wife was awarded $11 a week alimony. Recently she had brought a new action, which was still pending, making $40 alimony and cancellation of the divorce agreement.

Millman said Martin had been sent to an orphanage home at Hudson, N. Y., recently to convalesce from a pneumonia attack.

RIVAL ROSE OPEN SERIES IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 4.—With five credits in eight starts to their credit since leaving the home district, the Boston Sox arrived in the Windy City today all set to take the measure of the White Sox in the series that opens at Comiskey Park tomorrow afternoon.

Eddie Cicotte and Co. will find the Sox a much finer aggregation from the one it tackled in Boston a few weeks back. The Foulmen are enjoying the last Western trip a club club has had in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, and since they are set of the opinion that they can beat them, the well lighted town of Chicago will get a good game or two before the season closes. They promise to be a hard club to stop from here on.

Always Fresh and Mellow

LUCKY STRIKES are distinctively different. Why? "IT'S TOASTED."

But "IT'S TOASTED" is more than a ready answer. In two words it condenses volumes of technical description. It represents added expense in extra machinery, extra labor.

It is a super-process, an addition to the choosing of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended.

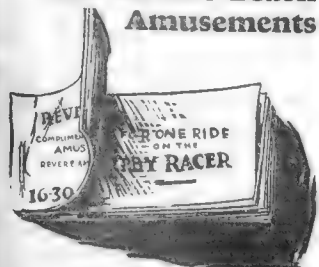

In three ways it lifts LUCKY STRIKES out of the ordinary. Toasting for 45 minutes (1) removes the "bite" and harshness, (2) develops the hidden flavors of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. Then (3) sudden chilling seals the moist fragrance in, keeping LUCKY STRIKES ever fresh.

These three things account for the growing millions who prefer LUCKY STRIKES.

BECAUSE IT'S TOASTED
That's Why Luckies Taste So Good
